U.N. CRISIS OVER IRAN ENDED

Subsidy End Urged

SHOWDOWN VOTE ON TWO BILLION DOLLAR PROGRAM DUE FRIDAY

TERMINATION WOULD INCREASE FOOD AND OTHER PRICES MORE

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

WASHINGTON, April 4—(AP)—The House Banking Committee debated for two hours today a proposal to end the government's $2,000,000,000 subsidy program by Jan. 1 but put off a showdown vote until tomorrow.

The proposal, advanced by Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich) as an amendment to a measure extending the life of the OPA, would halt payments made to hold down food costs and permit prices to rise correspondingly.

It would require a 25 percent reduction in subsidy payments on agricultural products each 45 days after July 1.

Two Billion At Stake

The administration has asked $2,000,000,000 to continue the program during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The amendment would specifically provide that no reductions would be made in farm support prices.

Among subsidies that would be affected, if the amendment passes, would be those on meat, flour, dairy products, flaxseed, sugar, processed fruits and certain fresh fruits.

Wolcott announced he would press for a committee vote to hold OPA's new lease on life to nine months, instead of a year as requested by P

OPA M

Wolcott told newsmen yesterday's committee action, stipulating that OPA must be out of business by June 30, 1947, did not mean the group had approved a year's extension for the price agency.

The committee got into a wrangle over the elimination of subsidies when Rep. Monroney (D-Okla) offered a substitute for Wolcott's amendment which would simply stipulate that the government must reduce its overall subsidy payments by 25 percent in the next fiscal year, and get out of the subsidy business entirely by June 30, 1947.

Monroney contended Wolcott's

ESCAPED CONVICT IS STILL AT LARGE AFTER COMRADE IS INJURED

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—Earl McFarland, condemned rape-slayer, today pitted the cunning he learned on Guam campaigns against the combined efforts of police and FBI manhunters.

The 24-year old ex-Marine has been at large since dawn yesterday when he and Joseph D. Medley staged a spectacular death house break after overcoming two guards.

A $300 reward was offered today for information leading to the capture of McFarland.

As the man hunt spread, it was reported from Cleveland that the FBI and Northern Ohio police were reported seeking a man said to resemble McFarland who hitchhiked a ride from Western New York to Cleveland late yesterday.

Maj. Harvey G. Callahan, superintendent of district police, announcing the reward, expressed the belief McFarland might have left Washington, saying he did not believe he was "holed up" in the vicinity in which his escape com-

HILLSBORO'S CALVERT "LIBERAL CANDIDATE" IN GOVERNOR'S RACE

HILLSBORO, April 4.—(AP)—Indications today were that the Texas Democratic party would have two so-called liberal wing candidates at the post, when campaigning starts for the governor's race this summer.

This outlook developed yesterday when friends of Robert Calvert of Hillsboro filed his application with the state Democratic executive committee. Chairman Harry Seay of the Democratic Executive committee announced the filing.

Minimum Wage Of 60 Cents Per Hour Is Approved

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—The senate approved today a compromise proposal to put a floor of 60 cents an hour under wages of persons covered by the wage hour law.

It adopted, 79 to 6, an amendment offered by Senator Ellender (D-La.), to pending legislation to lift the present 40 cent minimum. Final action was still to come on several other controversial points.

The 60 cent minimum would become effective 10 months after the bill becomes law, applying to workers "engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce."

The senate's action eliminated a committee-approved proposal for a wage minimum of 65 cents—and later 75 cents—as well as application of this to workers in activities "affecting commerce."

Senator Russell (D-Ga), author of the farm price amendment which was adopted by a 43 to 31 roll-call vote Friday, expressed his determination to see that it is not removed by indirection.

It would revise the farm parity price formula by including the cost of farm labor. Stabilization officials contend it would raise America's food bill $4,000,000,000 or more a year.

President Truman, who previously sent word to the Senate that he would be compelled to veto the whole bill if the farm price amendment were adopted, reiterated his disapproval yesterday. The president told his news conference it would upset the reconversion applecart.

Farm Tool Makers May End Strike But Miners Remain Out

By The Associated Press.

Settlement appeared imminent today in one of the nation's longest current strikes, the 10-weeks old work stoppage by 30,000 CIO farm equipment workers employed in International Harvester Co. plants.

While government labor officials looked hopefully toward the end of the country's major labor dispute, the work stoppage by 400,000 AFL soft coal miners, negotiators on the Harvester Company's strike were reported in agreement on all except one issue.

The issue still under debate as representatives of the company and the union met with federal conciliators in Washington was reported to be allowance rules for piece workers under which they would get average earnings for time lost during machinery breakdowns or similar slack periods. More than half of the 30,000 employes involved are piece workers.

Negotiators said an agreement was likely and the union was reported ready to scrap its maintenance of membership provision and the company to have greed to maintain a dues checkoff system and to pay shop stewards for time spent handling grievances Wages are not an issue, an 18-cent hourly wage increase having been agreed upon.

Agreement by the negotiators and subsequent ratification by the union council would send the strikers back to their jobs of producing needed farm tools.

In the soft coal dispute, operators threatened to force a showdown on the wage and hour demands by John L. Lewis, president of the AFL United Mine Workers. Lewis, in three weeks of contract talks, has refused to discuss these issues pending an agreement "in principle" to his proposals for a health and welfare fund and for improved mine safety. A spokesman for the mine owners said they intended to press for a vote today on their resolution calling for immediate consideration of the wage-hour issues.

Meanwhile, the shutdown of the mines spread idleness to the steel, railroad and other industries. President Truman said a prolonged strike by the miners would stall the reconversion program.

The transit strike in Detroit and Akron, O., which started Monday, continued, with no indications of immediate settlement of the wage dispute.

CITY AND COUNTY TO ELECT SCHOOL TRUSTEES SATURDAY

School trustee elections will be held Saturday throughout Navarro county, both independent and common districts.

Three members of the county board of education will be elected.

Heated campaigns have developed in some districts, particularly in the City of Corsicana, while in other sectors, little interest has been engendered.

L. C. Boswell of Barry, county trustee-at-large, is opposed by P. M. Gladney, Zion's Rest, in the only contested county school board race. J. L. Hamilton, Eureka, Precinct 1, and E. H. Gray, Kerens, Precinct 2, are seeking re-election unopposed. Holdovers are W. B. Payne, Pursley, and G. E. Moore, Frost.

W. P. McCammon and Mrs. Festus A. Pierce are seeking re-election in the Corsicana Independent District while Doyle L. West is opposing McCammon. Holdover members of the Corsicana board of education are Mrs. H. R. Stroube, R. L. Wheelock, J. H. Sullivan, Dr. J. Wilson David and Dr. W. K. Logsdon.

The Corsicana balloting will be at the city hall from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. with C. S. Wood as the presiding judge.

More Money Is Being Pledged For Hat Factory

About $83,000 has been pledged toward a sum needed to bring a hat manufacturing plant to Corsicana, Fred H. Harvey, Jr., chairman of the Chamber of Commerce industrial committee, said this morning.

Workers were to report in through the day, and it was hoped that the entire $110,000 would be secured before the end of the week.

This amount is needed to buy a piece of land and build an industrial building to house the Texas-Miller Products Co., a large hat manufacturing concern with headquarters in the east.

Railroads May Ask Rate Boost To Pay For Wage Increase

CHICAGO, April 4—(AP)—The nation's class 1 railroads, directed by two arbitration boards to increase wages of 1,220,000 workers 16 cents an hour—which union officials termed inadequate—were expected to ask for a boost in freight rates to compensate for the pay boosts.

As one union spokesman disclosed that new wage demands will be made on the 130 lines as soon as possible, the Santa Fe Railroad said it would immediately appeal to the Interstate Commerce Commission for higher freight rates. Similar action by other lines was regarded as cetain.

RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR ABSENT AS COUNCIL VOTES ON ISSUES

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP)—On a motion by U. S. Secretary Byrnes, the Security Council today shelved the Iranian case until May 6—but the decision came only after Australia's representative had blasted Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko's walkout and accused the council of failing to do its duty.

Nine of the council's 11 members voted for the Byrnes resolution which is based on Russia's flat promise to the council yesterday that her troops will all be withdrawn from Iran by early May.

Voting for the Byrnes resolution were China, Netherlands, France, Mexico, Poland, Britain, Brazil, Egypt and the United States.

Ala Accepts Terms.

After Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala had stated his government's acceptance of the deferment and Byrnes had thanked the council members for adopting his resolution the council adjourned at 12:46 p. m. EST until Tuesday at 3 p. m.

LEFT-WINGERS BEGIN CAMPAIGN AS RUSSIANS PULL OUT OF IRAN MAKING NEW ELECTION POSSIBLE

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

TEHRAN, April 4.—(AP)—Tudeh (leftist) party candidates began campaigning for the next parliamentary elections today as Russian troops were reported moving out of Iran in a manner which a government spokesman described as satisfactory.

Under Iranian law elections cannot be held as long as foreign troops remain on Iranian soil. At least seven Tudeh deputies in the last parliament, however, left Tehran to campaign in the provinces in the expectation that an election would follow the Russian withdrawal.

Abounasr Azod, Tudeh propaganda director, confidently predicted sweeping gains for his party, whose opponents charge it is Russian-supported.

No Strings Attached.

Prince Mozaffar Firouz, Iranian propaganda minister, said theRussians had promised to complete the evacuation of Iran early in May "without any conditions whatsoever."

Firouz told a press conference he had been advised that two or three shiploads of Russian troops already had departed through the Caspian Sea port of Pahlevi, about 150 miles northweset of Tehran.

He declared the Soviet government had "agreed that within a period of five or six weeks from March 24 Soviet forces would have left the whole country," and added:

Complete Evacuation.

"I would like to point out that by this memorandum the complete evacuation of Iran within the aforesaid period was not subject to any conditions whatsoever."

APPLICATION FOR HOUSING PROJECT MADE BY VETERANS

Applications have been made by 36 Navarro County veterans of World War II for apartments at the proposed Air Activities Field housing project, according to Chamber of Commerce officials.

Many of these veterans are desperate for housing facilities and many of them have children. In most instances they are living with their parents in over-crowded conditions, the Ghamber of Commerce said.

After conferring with officials in Washington, Mayor John C. Calhoun said it would be necessary to show a local housing shortage before the barracks could be obtained.

Veterans desiring to place their names on the list for housing facilities are asked to call at the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Long-TermHousing Program Gets Nod From Committee

WASHINGTON, April 4—(AP)—Long range housing legislation, aimed at a goal of 12,500,000 new homes in the next 10 years, was approved unanimously today by the Senate Banking Committee.

It provides easier loans and credits designed to encourage construction by private industry and calls for continued direct government aid for low rent housing.

The long range plan is independent of the emergency legislation to provide homes for veterans.

Chairman Wagner (D-NY) announced the committee, by a 7 to 4 vote, modified a provision demanded by the AFL and the CIO.

This was a clause requiring that "the wages or fees prevailing in the locality" must be paid on any construction done with the aid of government loans.

It was made inapplicable to individual FHA-financed homes, but was left in so far as public and large scale housing construction is concerned.

SOVIET NOTIFIES FRANCE PEACE CONFERENCE SHOULD BE PUT OFF; U. S., BRITAIN WANT IT MAY 1

PARIS, April 4—(AP)—Russia has notified the French foreign office that the European peace conference, scheduled to open here May 1, should be postponed pending a Big Three agreement on the treaties.

The Russians directly opposed the British and American positions that the conference should open May 1, even if the deputy foreign Ministers' conference in London had not yet agreed by then on treaty drafts for Italy, the Balkans and Finland.

The date of May 1 was set by foreign Ministers of the three powers at their Moscow conference.

The Russian and British positions were expressed orally to French diplomats in Moscow and London in answer to the French foreign office's recent inquiry as to whether the major powers thought the conference could open on schedule.

Wave Damage $10,000,000

HILO WATERFRONT DEMOLISHED—This aerial view of the Hilo, Island of Hawaii, waterfront section, is where the tidal wave of April 1 created the greatest destruction in the Hawaiian Islands. 48 dead and 74 missing have been reported from Hilo. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Honolulu).

HONOLULU, April 4.—(AP)—Property damage wrought by the Pacific's tidal waves was estimated at $10,000,000 in the Hawaiian Islands today as businessmen and owners of tiny beach cottages and $60,000 luxury homes counted their losses.

The death toll in the islands rose to 88 with the finding of five more bodies at Hilo, bringing that city's total to 58. Sixty-nine were missing; 59 of them from the island of Hawaii. In other areas of the Eastern Pacific, 12 persons drowned. Thus, 169 persons in all may have lost their lives.

Many Places Hit.

Monday's immense waves also hit Tahiti, the Aleutians, California and South America but the greatest loss of life and property occurred in the Hawaiian Islands.

The search for the missing—including 25 school children—continued by sea and air. Supplies of food and clothing poured into the stricken seaport city of Hilo, partially wrecked as the full force of the tidal waves crashed through its funnel-like harbor.

Throughout the islands, property owners and city, county and territorial officials made sketchy estimates of damage to inundated hotels and yacht clubs, stores and warehouses, sugar plantations, shipping, army and navy instal-

ONE OF CHIEF CONTRIBUTING FACTORS TO EUROPE'S HUNGER IS WIDESPREAD BLACK MARKET

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst.

We are hearing a great deal about the plague of hunger which is sweeping Europe and Asia with increasing intensity, but curiously enough little is being said about one of the chief contributing factors—the black market.

Experts of 18 nations are meeting in London to figure out methods of meeting the food crisis, and former President Hoover is expected to appear there this week and give the conference the benefit of his survey of the European situation. But no matter what progress is made along other lines, the problem will be far from solved unless ways are found of dealing with the black market which fattenes on the suffering and even starvation of the unfortunate.

Of course, it's one thing to talk about eliminating black market and it's quite another to knock out these insidious institutions of the devil, which work by stealth and traffic on the weakness of human nature. Still, they can be largely hamstrung by vigorous measures.

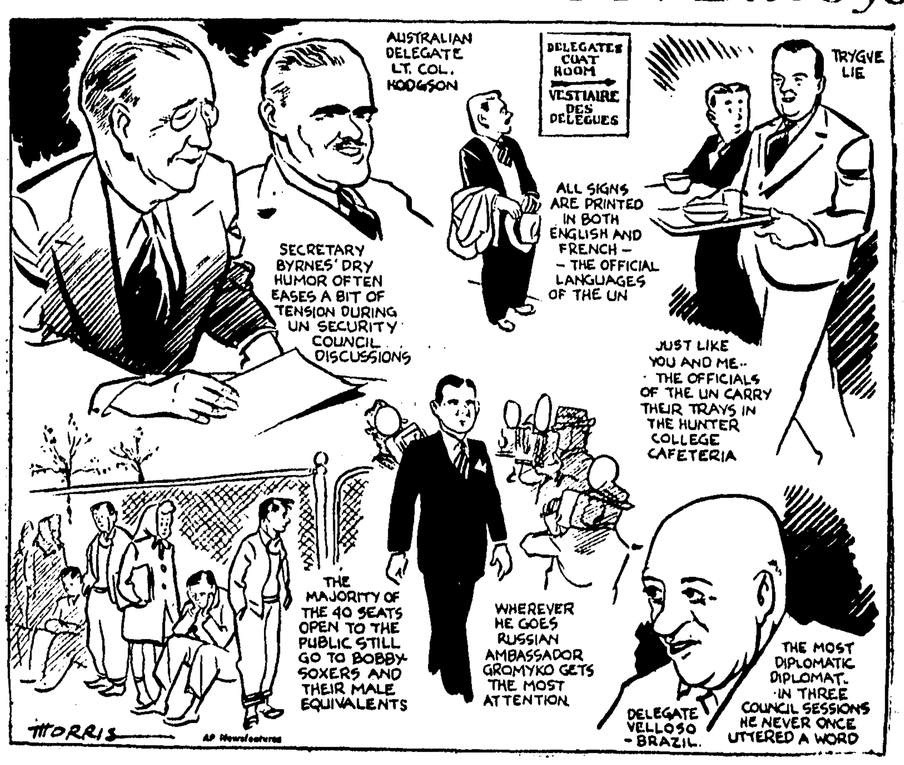

The European black markets are vital mtter to the Western hemisphere as it embarked on a relief program. Food is serce the world over, and we have a right to assurance that our contributions won't fall into the hands of the racketeers.

Black markets or no black markets, we've got to send aid to hungry countries. We can't delay until these illegal marts are wiped out, but we can insist that governments inaugurate drastic measures against these leeches

Take the case of our French ally. There's widespread undernourishment because the legitimate stores lack stocks with which to honor the food ration coupons held by the little man. I assume that the United States, Canada and the Argentine will see Gromyko's continued absence counted for one vote and the abstention of Australia's W. R. Hodgson from casting his ballot for the other.

Byrnes declared Russia's assurances should be accepted as satisfactory and that by deferring the case now the council could ask reports on it May 6—by which time the Russians should be out of Iran. Council President Quo Tai-Chi of China said he hoped Iran and Russia would settle all their troubles and make further discussion unnecessary.

But it was Hodgson, fiery, gray diplomat in the best Australian tradition of a minority protester, who added the final fireworks to the crisis-laden case.

He said Gromyko's walkout a week ago had "prejudiced the work, efficiency and authority of the council," that the decision to defer the case should not have been made until after full investigation, that Iran's complaints were being handled as a political incident rather than a whole vital situation.

In his broad accent of the man from "down under" he emphatically told his dignified colleagues "This case was a challenge to the Security Council and in our opinion the council did not meet it."

He leaned hunched over the council table as he spoke in sharp terse sentences and when the vote was taken he kept his hands firmly on the table.

All Problems Solved.

Throughout the proceedings Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala was at the council table and he expressed Iran's acceptance of the Byrnes-sponsored resolution.

It was believed, said the slight, quiet-voiced diplomat, that withdrawal of Russian troops would ease all Iran's problems. At the same time he declared:

'It is understood that the questions of the withdrawal of troops and interference in the affairs of Iran remain on the agenda to be brought up at any time."

As for the council work on the case, he said that "Iran has received assurances from the United Nations that it could not have obtained by itself."

Cadogan Favors Plan.

In short order Egypt, Brazil, Poland, and Mexico lined up behind the Byrnes resolution which provided that on May 6 the council could ask new reports on the situation, presumably from both Russia and Iran.

Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain said he believed the settlement which Byrnes proposed—to defer the case until Russian troops can be withdrawn according to promise—would be a 'good augury" for the council's future efforts to build world peace.

After Foreign Minister Francisco Castillo Najera expressed Mexico's support for th resolution, French Ambassador Henri Bonnet stated France's agreement.

Red Assurances Noted.

Bonnet's announcement made a council majority.

The Byrnes resolution took note of the Russian assurances that troops would be evacuated from Iran within five-six weeks of the start of their removal on March 24.

It accepted the Russian promise as unconditional.

Since withdrawal could not be completed any earlier than the specified time, Byrnes said, the council should accept the Russian statement, and, in effect, shelve the case.

Ambassador Andrei Gromyko, Russian representative was absent as usual.

However, finish of the Iranian case, vastly complicated for the council by Gromyko's walk-out a week ago, would allow him to return almost immediately to the council's sessions. He announced he was absenting himself only from the discussions on Iran.

While Russia had asked a delay in the case until April 10, Iran had pressed for immediate full discussion on its merits. Byrnes said that while the Security Council had gone ahead with it this far, he now saw no need to raise the merits of the issue.

Capt. Wm. B. Tatum arrived several days ago from 15 months' service in the European Theater of Operations, after having received his discharge. He was met in Dallas by his wife, who has been residing in Corsicana during his absence.

The most spectacular damage to beautiful waterfront estates occurred in the fashionable Koko Head area on Oahu. Police estimated damage to homes, each worth $50,000 or more, at $1,000,000.

that France and other needy countries get relief.

However, as we send our food ships to La Belle France we have every right to note that, while her legitimate markets are short of stocks, black markets are booming in every part of the country.

I give you my word, the situation is staggering.

The racketeers stand in doorways and mutter out of the corner of their mouths: "Want some beef?" "Want some chicken?" "Want some butter?"

If the housewife has the money for exorbitant prices, she can buy from these scum—but she probably doesn't have the money. So it goes. You can buy steaks with trimmings in swagger hotels and restaurants—if you have the money. But the little man and his flock go hungry.

Obviously these black market operations can't be wiped out overnight, but they certainly could be dealt a heavy blow if the authorities would go all-out against them. That would mean the salvaging of a lot of food to be used in legitimate channels.

Firouz also emphasized that the evacuation question was not involved in negotiations which he said now are under way in Tehran with a view to "bringing about a settlement of all outstanding questions between Iran and the Soviet government."

"Not at this time."

In response to a question as to whether the Russians would be expected to aid in solving the Azerbaijan problem, he declared that "the only aid they could give would be moral aid." The Azerbaijan problem, he added "is strictly an internal one."

BREAKS NAZI MOVE — Brig. Gen. Edwin L. Sibert (above) American Intelligence Chief in Germany, announced that American and British troops had smashed a powerful attempt by Nazi fanatics to regain power in occupied Germany. (AP Wirephoto).

ATHENS, April 4.—(AP)—One man who helped the most to cripple Greece is currently charged with the task of rebuilding her shattered face.

To 32 year old Constantiine A. Doxiadis, under secretary of state for reconstruction, has fallen the task of planning a new Greece that will look less like the Parthenon and more like a modern industrial state.

During the German occupation he acted as technical advisor on strategic sabotage for the Allies and also helped set up a secret organization of 250 engineers and 500 students who reported on potential demolition that would harass the Axis.

Destroyed Own Country

"If the Allies wanted a bridge blown to interrupt German communications we blew it," he said. "We had 50 engineers working on ways to hamper the Germans and 200 working on how we could afterward repair and improve our country."

Doxiadis believes it will take 10 years of the hardest kind of work and 600,000,000 dollars to restore his ruined homeland. He estimates Greece, who held a grenade to her own breast to help her allies, can supply only 1-10th of this capital and that the rest must come from gifts and loans from friendly countries.

"If they cannot pay with money they should do so with materials and machinery," he said.

Large Area Ruined

The main area of ruin is in Epirus along the Albanian border, 35 percent by Albanian bands mated was caused by Italians and 35 precent by Alybanian bands which moved in with German occupying forces.

"As they destroyed forests, brick, cement and tile plants as well as villages and farm buildings" he said, "Our greatest problem is to transport materials. We must organize a colossal transportation system to haul building materials 150 miles instead of the 10 or 15 miles that would be necessary if they hadn't razed local buildings and industries."

Many Trucks Needed

He said this would require 1,000 trucks and that 235,000 building trades workers in addition to those already in Greece were needed to solve the skilled labor shortage.

"Our third problem is supplies and we especially need lumber, steel, iron plumbing and electrical equipment."

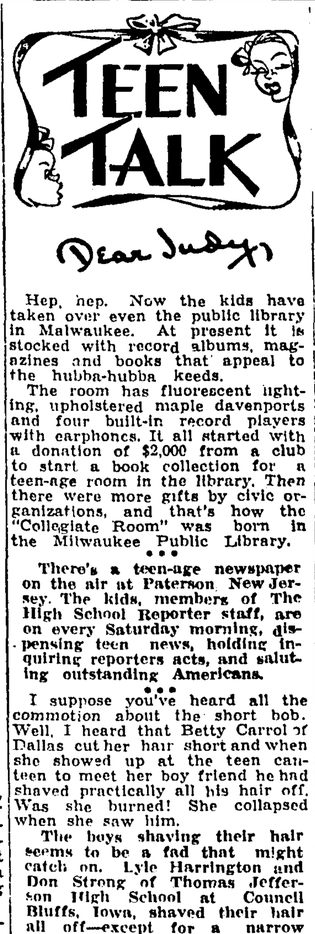

"We hope to do more than just rebuild Greece. We want to build it better than it was."

Doxiadis thinks Greece will have to lean heavily on American engineering companies. He likes them because it the past they have trained thousands of Greek technicians during construction jobs here.

Hep, hep. Now the kids have taken over even the public library in Malwaukee. At present it is stocked with record albums, magazines and books that appeal to the hubba-hubba keeds.

The room has fluorescent lighting, upholstered maple davenports and four built-in record players with earphones. It all started with a donation of $2,000 from a club to start a book collection for a teen-age room in the library. Then there were more gifts by civic organizations, and that's how the "Collegiate Room" was born in the Milwaukee Public Library.

There's a teen-age newspaper on the air at Paterson, New Jersey. The kids, members of The High School Reporter staff, are on every Saturday morning, dispensing teen news, holding inquiring reporters acts, and saluting outstanding Americans.

I suppose you've heard all the commotion about the short bob. Well, I heard that Betty Carrol of Dallas cut her hair short and when she showed up at the teen canteen to meet her boy friend he had shaved practically all his hair off. Was she burned! She collapsed when she saw him.

The boys shaving their hair seems to be a fad that might catch on. Lyle Harrington and Don Strong of Thomas Jefferson High School at Council Bluffs, Iowa, shaved their hair all off—except for a narrow strip from forehead to neck. Do you reckon Lyle and Don did it just to make the girls weep dreep?

About 2700 young journalists were delegates to the 22nd annual convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press in New York. They

I've got the dreamiest new Spring outfit—one of Emily Wilkens' new navy wool suits with a big full skirt and a frosty lingerie dickie. I'm going to wear a great big sailor hat. Oh, I forgot to mention the suit has a bright red corsage to go with it.

For the 'gator drags I have the smoothest halter-neck striped rayon taffeta with a bustle back and black eyelet edging. It is super-collossal.

D'ye know that the hips of teenagers have increased two inches in the last five years? Seventeen year old kids used to have an average hip measurement of 35 and now they hit the tape at 37 inches. Waist measurement remains approximately 26 inches. There is a new teen-age foundation garment which the kids find gives them plenty of give for walking, exercising, skating and even bicycling, so they can keep from spreading at an early age.

S'long legs,

Vivian

Dallas To Raise City Employes' Pay Even Though CIO Members

DALLAS, April 4—(AP)—The Dallas city council announced last night, subsequent to a district court ruling upholding the city's anti-union ordinance, that wages of low-bracket city employes would be raised.

City Manager V. R. Smitham and Mayor Woodall Rodgers said the amount of the increase and the brackets affected would be determined at a council session Friday.

The court decision, handed down by District Judge Paine L. Bush, left to the council's discretion the course it should take relative to discharge of organized workers.

The council said in a statement that it has no desire, "in fairness to the people of Dallas and to its employes, to be vindictive about the matter."

Dean Of House Of Representatives 80

WASHINGTON, April 4—(AP)—Adolph J. Sabath lit a big black cigar, puffed away belligerently, and allowed that the fact he has attained four-score years doesn't mean a thing.

Today is the 80th birthday anniversary of the Dean of the House of Representatives.

"It's just another day," he insisted to reporters. "I'm not the oldest member of the House. In fact, I feel like the youngest."

In point of age Sabath is outranked by severa members, but none can equal his 40 consecutive years of service.

State Department Is Ready To Buy Rubber

WASHINGTON, April 4—(AP)—The State Department announced today that the United States will buy all the Malaya natural rubber allocated to it by the combined rubber committee, paying 20 1-4 cents per pound for standard top grades.

That price is for rubber delivered free on board ocean-going ships at Far Eastern ports.

This arrangement will extend through June 30. A previous agreement applied to deliveries from V-J Day through March 31.

TELEVISION GIVES BREAK TO HARPO MARX—"DUMMY"

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 4—(AP)—Harpo Marx, whose unusual talents have denied him a radio career, has now found his place on the air—in television

Because he is professionally dumb (you wouldn't believe it to view his bank account), Harpo was not able to follow his talkative brothers into radio.

"I have played the harp on the air," he explained, "but you have to see the novelty of such a wild character playing such a beautiful instrument."

"Gummo is arranging a deal whereby I will appear on a half-hour show twice a week," he said. Harpo would like to play the dumb prop man on a show, as he did in "Yellow Jacket." But what about his propensity for chasing blondes

"It might be a little difficult to do in television," he admitted. "But I don't have to chase t very far."

The brothers have once again scattered their interests now that they have finished "A Night In Casablanca." While Harpo dabbles in television, Groucho is writing, doing guest shows and mulling a play and Chico is touring night clubs and theaters.

TEXAS TODAY

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Flatfooted and with our bare face hanging open we predict that one of the major playgrounds of the Southwest is going to be Lake Texoma.

This ruge, sprawling man-made lake piled up behind Denison dam offers excellent fishing, boating, swimming, and scenic beauty.

From the air or on a map Lake Texhoma looks like a Chinese dragon with its head in Oklahoma, a chest and spiked claw in Texas, and the rest of the body forming a boundary line between the two states.

The lake wasn't built for fun Denison dam and its reservoir were constructed at a cost of about $54,000,000 for flood control and hydroelectric power. The unruly Red river and the Washita river feed into it. The dam istelf is termed the world's largest earthen roll fill dam, whatever that means. It is 165 feet high and 15,350 feet long. The reservoir is the fifth largest in the United States, and hts inundated about 150 square miles. The shoreline is approximately 1,400 miles long. We pitch this in for those who like statistics.

Lake Texoma is very young. So young, in fact, that the nine million fish it has been stocked with haven't had time to grow as large as they are in other lakes, like Possum Kingdom, for example. The largest bass caught so far weighed eight and a half pounds. But they're growing.

Denison and Sherman and other cities within shouting distance of Texoma readily understand the potentialities of the lake. They are puling hard for a development program.

But the program is being kicked around by the government agencies. One, naturally favored by nearby cities, wants to spend about $5,000,000 on a dream program that includes everything a resort ought to have. The other wants to spend $400,000, mainly for roads.

The future of the lake may not depend on the outcome of this fight, for nothing will hold it back. But the length of time it takes to realize the dream does depend on the result.

The lake today has more and larger boats than many coastal towns. The fishing, lovingly controlled by State Game Warden Eddie Laird, is getting better all the time.

Lake Texoma is a fish bowl in the middle of what was once threatened to be a dust bowl. Green, towering trees surround it. Islands dot its surface. Fascinating coves embroider its shores.

So far, it lacks facilities to handle the tourist trade it deserves. But, as Chamber of Commerce Manager Bill Harwell says, there'll come a day—!

Faulty Navigation, Lack Of Fuel Lost 5 Planes, 14 Men

WASHINGTON, April 4—(AP)—Faulty navigation and lack of fuel today was believed responsible for the loss of five torpedo bombers and 14 occupants off Florida last Dec. 5.

A Navy investigating board reached this conclusion yesterday.

The board said the torpedo bomber flight leader, Lt. Charles C. Taylor of Corpus Christi, Tex., apparently believed his group was either south of the Florida peninsula or over the Gulf of Mexico, although he was "undoubtedly east of Florida" when he was overheard directing the flight by radio to fly east until land was sighted.

Static and interference from Cuban radio stations on the frequency used by the planes, the Navy said, prevented "coherent" communication between shore stations and the flight.

Senate To Be Too Busy For Recess

WASHINGTON, April 4—(AP)—There will be no Easter recess for the Senate.

Reason: Too much business piled up—things like OPA extension, the British loan, selective service extension, veterans housing legislation, appropriation bills.

House leaders still are hopeful of an informal spring recess lasting from about April 18 to month's end.

MAYOR CALHOUN, REP. LUTHER JOHNSON HEAR EISENHOWER AT TEXANS' WASHINGTON LUNCHEON

By L. T. (TEX) EASLEY

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—When Speaker Sam Rayburn introduced Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at a luncheon of Texas congressmen he said he would save his choice words of praise until he and the general went to Denison April 20 to see the house where the army chief of staff was born 54 years ago.

Nevertheless, he lauded Eisenhower as a man whose ability would have made it certain that he would have reached the top in any profession he might have chosen to follow. The off-the-record remark of the general left no one with doubt on that score.

Waco Solon Impressed.

"I have never heard anyone anywhere say so much in 20 minutes in my life," commented Rep. Bob Poage of Waco as the congressmen and their guests applauded the general. A moment later Poage repeated the observation personally to Eisenhower, who gave one of his famous smiles and said modestly, "thanks."

The talk dealt with army occupation forces, selective service, and the "caste system"—complaints some people have voiced against the army.

Defends Officers.

Without divulging anything the general wanted kept secret it can be said that he staunchly defended in particular the army's lieutenants and captains, and observed that 60 per cent of all officers had come up through the ranks by attending officer candidate schools.

Seated at the table near him as he talked was Capt. Rhoads Mustain of Aubrey, Texas, a doctor in civilian life who currently is on duty at Walter Reed Hospital. Wearing several service ribbons including the Purple Heart for wounds received in action, he was the guest of Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls.

Many Texans Present.

Other Texans at the luncheon, and their congressmen hosts, included: Mayor John C. Calhoun of Corsicana, with Rep. Luther A. Johnson; Hollis Boone, now with the FBI, formerly of Athens; Navy Lieut Hulan Brown, Jacksonville; Kelly Bell, Nacogdoches, Judge Joe Montague, Wort Worth, with Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine.

NEW YORK, April 4—(AP)—The verbal clash between Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt and her daughter, Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski, entered a new stage today with Gloria, Jr., declaring that "under no circumstances will my mother suffer privations due to the lack of the necessities of life."

"I have a natural filial regard for my mother," Mrs. Stokowski said in a statement distributed at a news conference in the Stokowski one-room penthouse apartment. 'Our present difference is not, on my part, one based on money."

Mrs. Stokowski recently terminated a $21,000 yearly allowance to her mother and sugegsted she find a job. She said she would use the money to aid "blind children and to help reed children who are homeless and starving in many countries."

Mrs. Vanderbilt, who has announced she would enter the perfume business, said "I have no comment" when informed of her daughter's statement.

NEGOTIATIONS STILL UNDER WAY IN LOCAL BETHLEHEM DISPUTE

"Some progress was made" at the Wednesday afternoon session, is was revealed, although some of the differences still exist.

Management was scheduled to report back Tuesday but a request for an additional 24 hours in which to consider the proposals was granted by the negotiating committee of the union. The parties resumed negotiations Wednesday afternoon.

Thursday afternoon's meeting is the sixth since those involved began the present series of conferences.

BOWLES UNDER FIRE OF COTTON STATES SENATORS AFTER ORDER FOR MARGIN INCREASE ISSUED

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON, April 4—(AP)—Southern Senators flung a torrent of hot criticism at Chester Bowles today for ordering Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to appove a cotton regulation aimed at blocking clothing price increases.

They called for the stabilization director's resignation, termed his action a "damned outrage," said he was "making farmers the goat," and contended he had jeoparized OPA's life. The agency is bidding for a full year's extension of its price control powers beyond June 30.

Anderson, too, was the target of a pot shot. Said Senator Maybank (D-S. C):

Anderson Also Hit

"I am indeed sorry to see that the agriculture department under Mr. Anderson has completely surrendered to the OPA."

This was a reference to the cabinet officer's approval of an OPA order requiring larger down payments on cotton purchased for future delivery. It goes into effect April 9. Bowles has contended the order is necessary to check speculative trading in cotton, which he says has forced up cotton clothing prices.

Anderson signed the cotton margin order yesterday after Bowles directed him to do so. He had refused to put his name to it voluntarily, and the attorney general's office ruled the measure would not be valid without the secretary's signature.

Bowles Authority Questioned

To criticism that Bowles had no authority to order Anderson to sign, a spokesman for the stabilization chief replied that he had acted under an executive order issued in 1942.

That order provides that he economir stabilizer "shall formulate and develop a comprehensive economic policy," and that he "shall have the power to issue directives" on such policy to federal departments and agencies concerned with price and wage stabilization.

CHINESE COMMUNIST SAYS ALLIES MUST LEAVE LAND ALONE

CHUNGKING, April 4—(AP)—Gen. Chou En-Lai, Communist spokesman, today demanded that the Allies give China a chance to establish Democracy and asserted that "careless assistance from foreign nations xxx will increase disorders here.

His statement was made as he and other Communists renewed their verbal assaults on the government and the Kuomintang (national party), further widening the breach that General Marshall's recent truce efforts narrowed only tempoarily.

Associates said Chou referred particularly to a huge United States loan the Chiang Kai-Shek government is negotiating with the assistance of Marshall, Truman's special envoy to China who currently is in Washington.

Great Garrison Seen

Chou charged that the Chinese government was seeking to make Manchuria a great garison with more than half a million troops. He said that was in violation of the spirit of the recent political unification agreement. Government spokesmen have asserted that it does not.

He said his party would not participate in reorganization of the Chinese government—in an all party basis—unless the Kuomintang agreed to abide by decisions by the recent political unity conference and ceased attempts to put Manchuria outside the control of those agreements. Marshall helped effect the pact.

Chou also renewed a Communist demand that the United States cease transporting government troops into Manchuria.

Curtain time is 8 o'clock for the unveiling of the Senior class presentation of "Through The Night," a mystery by Frances Ryerson and Colin Clements, tonight in the Senior High school auditorium.

Packed full of comedy, romance and thrills, it promises to be a pleasurable evening for the audience. Murder takes a sudden entrance in the second act before the full view of the audience.

From there until the final line it produces many laughs as the cast starts detecting. Jessop, the bumbling milkfed minion of the local law, played by Tommy Blakeney, takes the spotlight in the comedy field.

Set in a garden room of a country house on the Atlantic coast, the play was first produced in 1940 in London.

Price of admission is 40 cents for all seats.

Members of the cast are Mary Lou Cocke as Kay, Louise Smith as Sayre, Dorothy Smith as Mrs. Keefe, Alton Bohn as Roberts, Herbert Swarthout as Gregory, A. H. Ganze as Bunny, Don Tekell as Holbrook, Jimmy Calvert as Driscoll, Andrew McColpin as Smith, and Tommy Blakeney as Jessop.

CAMPAIGN STARTS TO SECURE NEW BAND UNIFORMS

Teams of Band Parents will begin today a concerted campaign in the business district to boost the current drive for new band uniforms.

Recently declaring the month of April as "Band Uniform Month," the association is endeavoring to have business firms and individuals donate full uniforms. Seventy-five uniforms are needed and funds raised and donated thus far will purchase only 30.

Those desiring to donate a full uniform may do so by either seeing or calling Dr. H. B. Love in the State National Bank building, or Mrs. J. W. McAdams, president of the orgtnization.

plan would result in a two per cent rise in food prices each 45 days.

No Guarantee Made

Wolcott countered that Monroney's substitute "doesn't give industry and agriculture assurance that it will be able to operate in a free market anytime soon."

Notwithstanding the battle on subsidies, congressional supporters of price control were optimistic as OPA came through the first Banking Committee sessions with fewer wounds than some had expected.

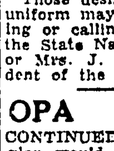

But the administration has yet to weather a battle royal on the House floor, where opposition may be stronger than in the committee.

That group voted yesterday to repeal OPA's program requiring manufacturers to make low cost clothing. It also approved a plan for the gradual lifting of price controls as supplies of scarce items come into balance with demand.

Believes 7 1-2 Cent Coin Would Save U. S. 60 Million

By ARLENE WOLF
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK—If mousetraps are priced at two for 15 cents, and you want only one, you pay eight cents for it.

If your local transit system charges 15 cents for two rides, you have to buy tokens. The tokens get lost, mixed up with the rest of your change, and end up in slot machines by mistake.

Dr. J. Rice Gibbs, New York dentist, has put his teeth into this odd change problem and come up with an idea for a new coin worth seven and a half cents. Gibbs, an elderly genial spare-time inventor, was inspired specifically because of New York's current subway fare dispute.

The fare is five cents. There's a movement to raise it to make up an operating deficit. Seven and a half cents per ride would do the trick, Gibbs believes, and would save the subway riders some $60,000,000 a year which they would pay out if the fare were raised to ten cents.

The proposed coin would be just between a nickel and a quarter in size. On one side, the dentist proposes a reproduction of AP photographer Joe Rosenthal's famous Iwo Jima picture. The reverse side would bear the figure 7 1-2 in large numerals—large enough for blind persons to feel, Gibbs points out.

Dr. Gibbs has written to the congressional committee on banking and currency about his idea, which is adopted, would give the U. S. its first seven and a half cent coin. Back in 1792, there was a half-cent coin minted and in the latter 1860's there was a two-cent bronze coin.

At the moment the dentist is devoting his spare time to pulling for adoption of the new coin. Its possibilities are varied, he thinks. It might even be used for tips.

CULBERSON CHARGES NAVY INACCURATE IN OIL NEED STATEMENT

AUSTIN, Tex., April 4—(AP)—Railroad Commission Chairman Olin Culberson upon his return from Washington today charged "deliberate misrepresentation" of the Navy's request for more fuel oil.

"The misrepresentation to the papers and over the radio, in the effort to create lack of fuel oil that the Navy's lack of fuel oil is causing delay in returning our soldiers home, is pure political clap-trap of the falsest kind and is utterly without foundation," Culberson.

The commission chairman said he was invited by the Navy authorities handling this matter to discuss the situation with them while he was in Washington to fight an application to pipe Texas gas out of the state.

Courthouse Lights Burn Again; Repairs Fuse Boxes Finished

Two days of groping and shin barking came to an end Wednesday as the lights went on again in the county courthouse. Many offices that had to delay work that entailed much work in official records were humming with activity.

Result of repairs to fuse boxes, machines requiring current and even the faithful clock high in the cupola halted, leaving the city without the comforting ringing at the hour and single note at the half hour.

Lights were welcome especially in the basement, where hardy souls had to resort to the feeble wavering light of candles to transact business.

A FRIENDLY FELLOW WAS JESUS, WHO WENT ABOUT HELPING FOLKS*

The Better His Friends Knew Him the More They Reverenced Him - - How He Won Little Children - - An Assortment of Disciples - - No Social Lines

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

For the next six months the Sunday School Lesson will be studying the life of Jesus Christ. Thus into the confused picture of world upheaval will be thrust the calm clear figure of the strong, wise and Divine Redeemer, who alone can lead our troubled world into abiding peace and brotherhood.

Like most other intelligent laymen, I have of late been reading many articles and books upon the all-engrossing subject of our changing times; and I have been struck by the absence of the figure of Jesus in the picture. All sorts of grandiose schemes are contending for consideration, yet there has not emerged in fullness the conception of the Kingdom of God on earth, for which we daily pray.

Many discussions skirt this supreme truth. Science confesses the failure of material progress to amend the world's spirit. Public men perceive and say, in increasing volume, that the remedy abides in a new moral purpose and a fresh spiritual understanding on the part of the general public.

A Program For Preachers

I have proposed that for a period of three months—better yet, for six months, to cover this series of International Lessons — every preacher in the land, Protestant and Catholic, devote his sermons exclusively to the theme of "The Winsomeness and Power of Jesus Christ." If the pulpit thus exalts the personality and mission of Jesus we may see the fulfilment of the Scripture, "And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto Me." That Divine magnetism will lead the world into new conceptions of peace and good will and righteous living.

As of old He drew men of every sort and condition to Himself, so today Jesus wins friends and influences people. A world made up of His friends would be a peaceful world, a safe world, a happy world, a prosperous world, because it would be governed by love for Him and by obedience to His clear will. There are simply no limits to the beneficence of His Kingdom program.

That Happy Band

We study today the picture of Jesus and His friends; and we are struck first of all by their variety. Himself a workingman, and surrounded, as closest comrades, with fellow workingmen. He yet penetrated the upper circles of His day's "Society." We recall His association with Simon the Pharisee and Nicodemus and the dinners given by the rich. He was utterly heedless of social lines; or, as has been said, He drew a vertical line, whereas the world drew horizontal lines to classify men. His distinction was only between the good and the bad, the loving and the unloving, the friends of God and the friends of evil. His "good society" was made up of good people, or of people aspiring to be good.

Do we often enough let our imaginations play upon that group of Jesus' disciples who were most constantly with Him, and who most closely shared His life? They had given up all to follow Him, and to be learners in His school. What a happy band they were, as they tramped to and fro over the countryside with Him, ever growing into a larger understanding of Him and of His mission. Diverse in their characterization, they possessed one overmastering unity, in their common devotion to Jesus; who was Himself so many-sided that he fitted the peculiar needs of every one.

Hale and hearty was this little band. The record does not tell of their informal fellowship about their self-prepared meals, or of the back-slapping humor as they recalled the day's experiences. These men were no plaster saints or haloed supermen. they were true to the normal type of manhood.

The Children's Friend

"That judgment that children have of you may be taken as a slice of the great Judgment Day," I once heard Dr James A. Worden say. We cannot over-emphasize the significance of the relation of Jesus to children. They thronged to Him, clinging to His hands and to His robe, and sometimes snuggling in His arms.

Our modern solicitude for childhood, and all new ministries to it, root in part in the example of Him who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me." Again Jesus identifies Himself with them in His words, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto Me."

We are following close after Jesus (And this is the glory and reward of the Sunday School teacher) when we are leading boys and girls to accept Him as their best friend. There is no "juvenile delinquency" where children are under the influence of the Saviour who loved them in Galilee.

SEARCH FOR SCIENTISTS

The seriousness of the shortage in this country of scientists, including physicians, is emphasized by efforts being made among industrial concerns to train promising youths in these fields. The Du Pont de Nemours Company, which for years has financed science scholarships, has doubled the number this year, and offers 74 fellowships in chemistry, physics and mechanical engineering. These, open to women as well as men, are on a postgraduate and postdoctorate level. They carry awards varying from $1,200 and $1,500 for a single person to $3,000 and increased allowance for married students, with additional grants of $1,000 to $1,500 to the university, which is given complete authority over selection of candidates and assignment of work. There is no stipulation of future employment involved.

The Westinghouse Electrical Corp. has concluded a "Talent Search" for likely high school seniors with a 17-year-old girl from Elizabethtown, Pa., who intends to be a brain surgeon, and a 17-year-old St. Louis boy bent on cancer research, who are winners of four-year $2,400 scholarships. Other winners, representing many states, received awards totalling $11,000 in scholarship funds.

These scholarships may help to fill gaps left by an unwise military policy which paid too much attention to recruiting line troops and too little to individual aptitudes. Some other nations, including Russia, showed greater intelligence in developinng their armed forces, with the result that their science programs are now less hampered than ours by war loss.

POLL TAX FADING

The poll tax area shows signs of narrowing. The recent Virginia legislature passed a constitutional amendment doing away with it. As the Virginia constitution, however, requires that amendments must be passed by two consecutive legislatures and then approved by popular vote before going into effect, the poll tax will continue to operate in Virginia for a few more elections.

The South Carolina Senate passed a bill abolishing this obstacle to voting, but the House failed to follow suit. The few remaining poll tax states contain a good deal of opposition to this voting bar. It takes time for entrenched tradition and prejudice to disappear. But this example of old injustice is on the way out.

The trouble about "collective security" says a neighbor, is that it's so hard to collect.

And once people thought it terrible for the country to have a forceful executive.

Edgar A. Guest

EPICS

The timid can correctly count
The odds against them as they mount;
Can the difficulties all,
The barriers looming, great and small;
Find clearly reasons good revealed
In failure to desert the field,
But pluck is needed to devise
A way to save the enterprise.

The frightened, as they step aside,
Can think and say their best they've tried.
And tell in simple terms and plain
Why every blow they struck seemed vain,
But one brave heart, with ardor fired,
Though bruised of body, breathless, tired,
When hope is flickering, almost gone,
And left alone will still fight on.

Oh, it has happened time again
That one of pluck's superbest strain,
When failure struck frim every side,
Has found a way to turn the tide,
When timid hearts had taken flight,
The books of history recite
Heroic tales of men who stayed
And of defeat a triumph made.

MOUTH-ADMINISTERED

The astute old doctor who took care of grandfather and both the aunts, used to say: "There's only one way to get fat, and that's by mouth." That was in the day when doctors arrived by horse and buggy, before calory counts and vitamin pills. But what he said is truth for today.

The President's suggestion that Americans cut down on their eating is designed to aid starving Europeans and Asiatics. But the dieting will benefit Americans also. People in this country—that is too many of them—eat too much. Count the fat folks on the streets and the bus. They'd feel better if they lost a few pounds, and certainly they would look better. The time has come in the world's history when a spare figure is not only good health insurance and good style, but good morals. For the normal person without physical imbalance, the old doctor had the answer. Turn the head slowly from left to right when offered a second helping.

MODERN CZAR

"Russian Furor Healthy Sign, May Lead to Understanding." So said a recent headline from an American newspaper, a part of the general quest just now for understanding of the Russians. The implication seems to be that Stalin, as modern Russian equivalent for the old Czars, is a man that Americans should be able to get along with, as we have usually done when we have a chance to talk to a Russian, man to man.

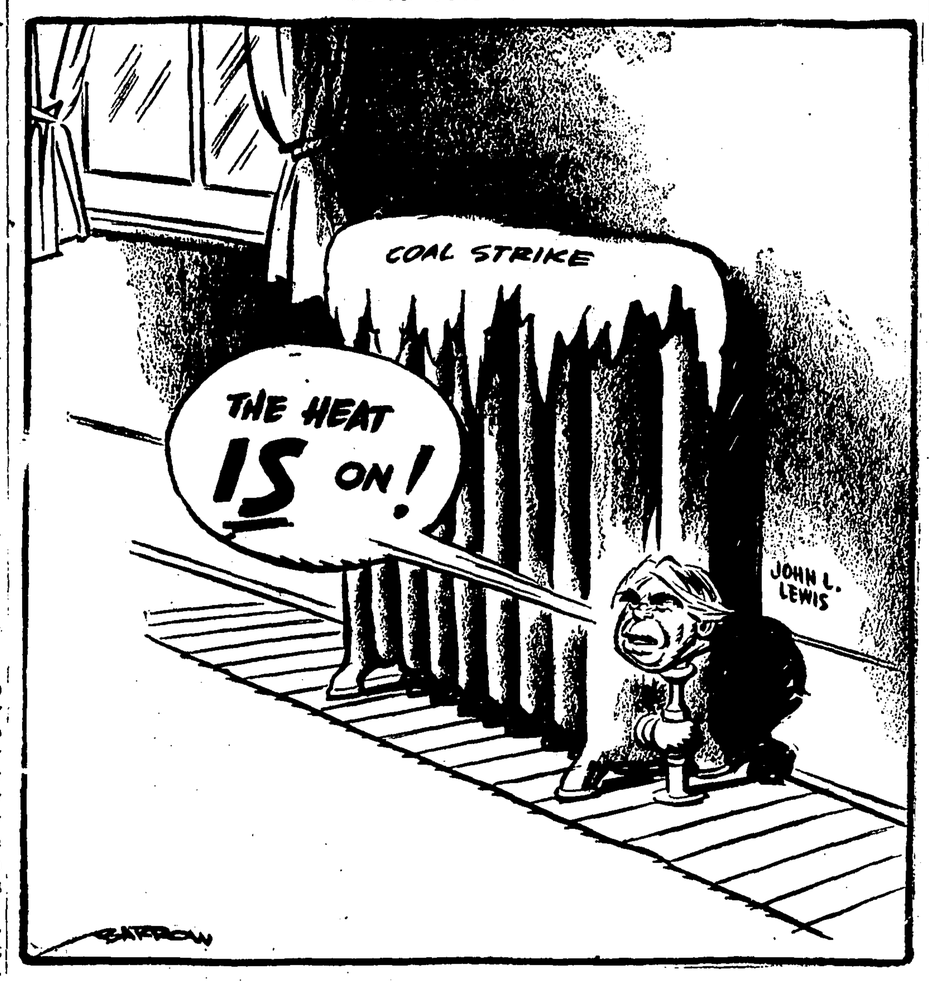

Stalin, however, is not a Russian as Americans usually understand the term. He is a Georgian, from a trans-Caucasian region whose inhabitants speak a language believed unrelated to any other. He seems to combine with his adopted Russian traits some Asiatic qualities that the average American would have great difficulty in fathoming.

There are hints, too, that all is not quite smooth sailing for Uncle Joe and his governmental group now in the internal affairs of Russia. Some of the external bluff may be for internal consumption. We have the example in our own labor leaders, always trying to prove to their union members how much they can do for them.

The Russian problem is far from simple. It's a good time for Americans to keep their shirts on. Nobody, here or anywhere lese, wants another war.

Count that week gained in which the old bus continues to hold together.

COLD FACTS

THE NATION TODAY
By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—How can a pressure lobby be controlled? No one has solved that yet.

There have been suggestions—from time to time—for forcing activities of pressure lobbies into the open so the public can see them.

Right now a pressure lobby can lie and connive to deceive the public and congress to achieve its own ends.

But any effort to stop that practice, no matter how odious it is, comes up squarely against the question of freedom of speech.

That freedom, guaranteed by the constitution and jealously guarded as a priceless American possession, often has been abused.

May Express Opinions.

Yet an individual or group has a right to express its opinions and to try to protect its interests.

It may be argued that no individual or group has the right, even though protecting its own interests, to thwart the public interest.

So this freedom of an individual or group to express opinion ual or group to express poinion must be a main consideration in any attempt to control lobbies.

The joint committee of house and senate—which congress set up to suggest ways of reorganizing congress—is very much aware of this.

In its report, issued March 4 after a year's study, it takes note of the work of pressure lobbies in trying to influence legislation. And it doesn't like what it sees.

Committee Proposals Listed.

So the committee proposes that: Organized groups (lobbies) trying to influence legislation would have to register with congress.

They'd have to tell what kind of legisaltion they're interested in, who their agents are, how much money they spend.

This is the same kind of proposal—registration and details of operations—for controlling lobbies that has been made in the past.

It would provide a public record of lobbies and their activities. The puplic would know something about them and what they're trying to do.

Attend Dallas Game.

Corsicana sport fans turned their attention toward Dallas this afternoon, and several were in that city to attend he New York Yankees-Dallas Rebels baseball game.

Among the Corsicanans who saw the big leaguers play the minor leaguers were Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Crouch, Jester Pittman and several others.

OPPONENTS OF DRAFT EXTENSION HEARD BY SENATE AND HOUSE

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—Groups opposed to extending the draft act presented their arguments on both sides of Capitol Hill today.

One witness asserted that a renewal of selective service would be "to tell the world that we intend to place our faith in military might, not in the United Nations organization."

That contention was voiced by Martin H. Miller, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainment, as the house military committee concluded two days of oppisition testimony.

The senate military committee also heard from opponents of legislation to extend selective service beyond May 15. Among them was Rabbi Isadore Hoffman of New York City who said passage of the measure would "stimulate a world armament race" and create an "atmosphere of suspicion, fear and hatred."

Urges Faith in UN.

He urged "faith" in the UN.

J. M. Dawson, Waco, Texas, chairman of the Southern Baptist Convention, told the house group that no action should be taken to put a peacetime draft into effect until "international organization has been proved impossible."

Emphasizing that neither he nor his organization is opposed to preparedness, Dawson said he believed the army's manpower requirements could be met by voluntary enlistments.

Baptists Oppose Draft.

The Southern Baptist Convention, he said, is "definitely committed to a world organization of nations in behalf of peace, implemented with necessary police power."

On the other hand, a proponent of draft extension, Col. John Thomas Taylor, representing the American Legion, told the senate

APPEAL TO SAVE STARVING PEOPLE IS MADE BY POPE

VATICAN CITY, April 4.—(AP)—Pope Pius in a broadcast speech today appealed to the world's "conscience and sense of responsibility" to save destitute peoples from starvation

Speaking over the Vatican radio, the Pope said the "spectre of famine rises behind the deliberations of diplomats."

He estimated that at least one-fourth of the population of the world faced the "sinister menace of hunger."

The Pope said it was indispensible to increase food imports for Europe until the next harvest is reaped.

His warning paralleled that of former President Herbert Hoover who discussed the world food situation with the pontiff when he visited Rome last week on his fact finding mission for President Truman. Hoover at the time said the next 120 days would be a very critical period.

panion, Medley, was caught yesterday.

The recapture of the 44-year old Medley after a seven-hour manhunt evidently provided police with no clues on McFarland's plans for flight. Bloodhounds followed one trail to a railroad track, but police also were keeping a close watch on northbound automobile traffic through Maryland.

Congress Eyes Escape.

The circumstances of the daring break, the latest in a series at the district prison, immediately set two investigations in motion, one by the justice department and another by a special congressional committee. Rep. Hebert (D-La), of this group assailed "conditions in a jail where murderers can walk in and out with apparent abndon."

A revised story of the escpe came out when jail officials disclosed that the two death row guards had released McFarland and Medley from their cells for a game of cards before the slayers overpowered them and stripped them of their uniforms. The guards were suspended, and later taken into custody by the FBI on charges of permitting prisoners to escape through negligence. They were released later under $1,000 bail.

Previously one of the guards said Medley forced him at gun point to unlock his cell door.

Mildred Club.

The proper way to make a dart was explained by Miss Vera Sneed, county home demonstration agent, at a meeting of the Mildred Club April 1 in the club house.

"To make a dart fit properly, start sewing at the bottom of the dart and sew to the top" she said. "If the material is thin, the dart should be pressed flat. If the material is thick, such as woolens, the dart should be split, then pressed flat."

Five Members of the Mildred HD Club will attend a district meeting in Denton April 17.

Mrs. B. P. Anderson, hostess, served refreshments to seven regular members, one new member, Mrs. Vernon Hagler, and two visitors, Mrs. Zack Boyd and Miss Sneed.

The club meets next April 8 in the home of Mrs. J. C. Decker for a demonstration on decorative finishes.

Miss Bette Pierce will arrive today from Ward-Belmont, Nashville, Tenn., for a week-end visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Festus Pierce.

GREEN AND WHITE GAME TO CONCLUDE JUNIOR FOOTBALL

All eyes of the Junior High Panthers are pointing to the coming Green and White game April 12. A lot of interest is spurring the hopefuls on in their spring training maneuvers on Tiger Field each afternoon.

Coach Bill Hay is being assisted by Boyd Payne, top pilot of the Senior High Tigers, and the two are working the gridders slowly to the polishing stage. The Green and White game seems a fairly good possibility and an incentive to the youthful players. To be unreeled on Tiger Field, the game will be in the afternoon and free of charge to the public.

Yesterday was more of the same with review of plays and passing and punting work. This afternoon will feature running plays against opposition.

Looking good to the coaches eyes yesterday were Nochas Rosas, who is making the fight for tackle a hot one, and Jimmy Allison is doing the same at end despite his weight handicap. At guard there is a spirited battle shaping up with Dickie Brown, Charles Weaver, and Billy Goodman in there for that important post. Goodman has been shifted over from tackle and is a fine prospect. One of the fastest boys on the squad, he will bear a lot of watching in the future.

Others looking on the bright side are Walter Bond, who is a good punter and place kick artist in addition to being a capable runner. Frank Warfield is crowding close for a berth in the starting four. Johnny Crawford is another jewel, being a good runner, a fair punter, and a possessor of football knowhow. He is a likely starter in the mastermind spot.

Restaurant Hopes To Lose Money— All For Red Cross

CHICAGO, April 4.—(AP)—Nick Selimos expects to have more than his usual number of customers at his restaurant today but he will lose money and the more he loses the happier he'll be.

Selimos, for the second year, is donating the gross receipts at his restaurant on South Wabash avenue near the Loop to the Red Cross drive. On April 4, 1945, the turnover amounted to $820.73.

Customers at Nick's restaurant are enthusiastic about the idea and he said if they follow the practice of last year most of them will pay more than the amount on the dinner check. One customer, he said paid $25 for a cup of coffee.

On the editorial page of the Baptist Standard for January 31 are remarks concerning the trend among some Baptists to substitute sprinkling for Baptists. The editor points out that the trend has become so marked that "in one section of New York state only a few churches, representing less than one-seventh of the total associational membership, require immersion. These people," he says "are representatives of thousands who are willing to change one of the most sacred ceremonies as they are to change their clothes or their daily habits to fit newer fashions."

These thoughts are timely. There is ever present the danger of attempting to modernize the Lord's commandments by changing them.

But what I can't understand is why a group should be concerned about whether one is immersed or sprinkled if neither has thing to do with his salvation. According to them, an individual who has not been baptized is just as well off spiritually as the person who has been; for there is no denying the fact that sprinkling could be just as good "an outward sign of an inward grace" as immersion. So, why be so worried about how it is done if it has nothing to do with our salvation

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP)—Announcement by the Office of Price Administration of higher margin on speculative cotton futures trading to become effective effective April shrd 8 A ?D woashrd April 9, along with a threat from Chester Bowles of a raw cotton ceiling if higher margins will not halt further price rises, brought in heavy liquidation in the cotton market today. Prices slumped $1.25 a bale but recovered a good part of the losses in later dealings on mill buying and some new outside demand, inspired by strong opposition to the higher margin requirements by cotton congressmen and moves in congress to relax the price control program.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP)—The stock market hit a fast rallying stride is the forenoon today but profit cashing subsequently intervened and extreme gains of 1 to more than 4 points were reduced in most cases.

Steels led the push. Tobaccos, buoyed by an expected cigarette price rise, soon joined the procession. Transfers of around 2,000,000 shares were the best since Feb. 26.

As in yesterday's late bulge, brokers credited further buying to bullishness over Washington's business statistics, revival of inflation thinking due to growing wage boosts, congressonal amendments to the OPA authority and brightening of the international scene.

Ahead the greater part of the day were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Philip Morris, Reynolds Tobacco "B," American Tobacco "B," Du Pont, Distillers Corp., Montgomery Ward, National Biscuit, International Paper, Public Service of N. J., and Standard Gas $4 preferred.

Occasional laggards were Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Union Pacific, American Telephone, North American, Sears Roebuck, Deere, Boeing and Texas Co.

Bonds improved selectively.

DISCLOSE SECOND BID FOR PURCHASE OF TWO PIPELINES

WASHINGTON, April 4—(AP)—A second bid for the purchase of the "Big Inch" and "Little Big Inch" pipelines has been disclosed by the Federal Power Commission.

Big Inch Gas, Inc., a new corporation headed by Charles H. Smith, New York, has offered $40,000,000 for the "Big Inch" Texas to New York line, built by the government during the war for the transportation of oil.

The application asked authority to operate the 24-inch pipeline as a natural gas carrier, and proposed to spend $30,000,000 on conversion facilities.

Another new corporation headed by Smith, Big Inch Oil, Inc., offered to buy the 20-inch diameter "Little Big Inch" line for an unannounced amount for transportation of petroleum products.

A previous offer of $40,000,000 made by Trans-Continental Gas Pipeline Company, Inc., Longview, Tex., for both lines and the government's southwest emergency pipeline has bee nannounced by the FPC. Trans-Continental proposed to spend $40,000,000 on conversion.

The month of April has been designated as "Band Uniform Month" in Corsicana, according to recent announcement by the Band Parents' Association, and all activities of the organization will be concentrated on raising funds for new uniforms for the Corsicana Tiger Band.

Thousands Of War Brides Stranded; Hubbies Laggards

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—At least 8,000 "war brides" and children of American servicemen are stranded overseas and cannot be brought to the United States, the war department disclosed today, unless the husbands and fathers concerned take action.

Liwewise stranded are some "war bridegrooms"—allen husbands acquired by WACs and nurses in the course of the war.

The 8,000 dependents apparently eligible for transportation here, but their papers are not in order or their transportation to the United States has not been requested by servicemen husbands or fathers. The war department attributes this situation to the failure of some GI's to understand t! proper procedure, but it did not rule out the possibility of wartime marriages gone awry.

Mother Wills Men $1 For Rope For Suicide

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—(AP)—Two brothers cut off in their mother's will with $1 each "to purchase rope with which to hang themselves," have settled their suit for a share in her $25,000 estate out of court.

Max and Charles Rosenbaum had sued, charging that their sisters, Mrs. Grace Roybark and Mrs. Bessie Rosen, had prejudiced their mother, Mrs. Annie Kroll Rosenbaum. Terms of the settlement were not announced.

Mesdames Ashley Cawthon of Pharr and C. D. Cawthon of McAllen are guests in the home of their sister, Mrs. A. A. Cox, and family.

Texas Oil Output In February Far Under Allowable

AUSTIN, Aril 4.—(AP)—The railroad commission announced today that actual February crude oil production in Texas was 4,497,129 barrels under the production allowable set by the commissioner's February oil order.

This procedure required that Smith—who presented his credentials yesterday to Nikolai Shvernik, chairman of the presidium of the supreme Soviet—make his first call on the dean of Moscow's diplomatic corps, Sultan Ahmed Kahn, the ambassador from Afghanistan.

It was reported Smith later would seek an appointment with Prime Minister Stalin to present a letter from President Truman.

Smith already is something of a sensation to his diplomatic colleagues because of the army schedule he has instituted at the U. S. embassy. The new ambassador starts work at 9 a.m.—and that mea:i 9 a.m., not 9:02.

This routine has caused dismay at some other embassies, where the staffs are alarmed lest the practice spread to all foreign missions in the Russian capital.

Not only does Smith report at 9 a.m. but he stays on at the embassy until after 6 p.m.—an almost unheard of ambassadorial day in Moscow. It is customary for the Russians to start work late and work far into the night, sometimes into the early m[illegible].

Smith's predecessor, Mr. Averell Harriman, started an early work day when he first came to Moscow, but because of the hours kept by the Russians he soon had to give it up. He wasn't getting any sleep. Harriman then moved his office from the embassy to his residence and did his work there.

Relax, You GI's; Past and Present; Fair Break Coming

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—Relax, you GI's, past and present. You'll get a fair berak from the army board studying officer-enlisted man relationships.

That's the concensus of the 30 or more witnesses who have met with the committee headed by stocky, bustling Lt. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle.

The meetings are not open to the public but almost every witness has been asked by reporters for an opinion of the board.

New Ambassador Starts Official Calls In Moscow

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, April 4.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, new U. S. ambassador to Russia, began today a formal round of diplomatic calls—a highly exacting procedure dictated by the rules of protocal.

This procedure required that Smith—who presented his credentials yesterday to Nikolai Shvernik, chairman of the presidium of the supreme Soviet—make his first call on the dean of Moscow's diplomatic corps, Sultan Ahmed Kahn, the ambassador from Afghanistan.

It was reported Smith later would seek an appointment with Prime Minister Stalin to present a letter from President Truman.

Smith already is something of a sensation to his diplomatic colleagues because of the army schedule he has instituted at the U. S. embassy. The new ambassador starts work at 9 a.m.—and that mea:i 9 a.m., not 9:02.

This routine has caused dismay at some other embassies, where the staffs are alarmed lest the practice spread to all foreign missions in the Russian capital.

Not only does Smith report at 9 a.m. but he stays on at the embassy until after 6 p.m.—an almost unheard of ambassadorial day in Moscow. It is customary for the Russians to start work late and work far into the night, sometimes into the early m[illegible].

Smith's predecessor, Mr. Averell Harriman, started an early work day when he first came to Moscow, but because of the hours kept by the Russians he soon had to give it up. He wasn't getting any sleep. Harriman then moved his office from the embassy to his residence and did his work there.

NEW GREEK PRIME MINISTER NAMED; IS RIGHT-WINGER

ATHENS, April 4.—(AP)—Panayotis Poulitsas, president of the supreme state council, was designated today as the new Greek prime minister after full agreement had been reached between populist and national bloc leaders.

The Populist party and Nationalist bloc were the leading elements in the March 31 elections.

A new cabinet will be sworn in at 7 p. m. tonight, it was announced.

Three former premiers, George Papandreaou, Panayotis Kanellopoulos and Sophocles Venizelos, will serve as ministers without portfolios.

Papandreou said the question of a plebiscite on the return of King George II would not be raised without a thorough examination from the viewpoint of Greek national interests alone.

Papandreou then received for consultation Premiers Panayotis Kanellopoulas and Sophocles Venizelos. He said the new government slate might be announced later in the day.

The four left wing parties of the EAM-KKE, attacking the validity of Sunday's election because only half of the registered voters went to the polls, have called upon the regent Archbishop Damaskinos to prepare the way for new balloting.

Right-wing leaders, on the other hand, asserted that normally only about 65 per cent of the registered vote goes to the polls in Greece and said that at least 10 per cent of the names on the registration list, compiled in 1937, were dead persons.

TWO CITY COMMISSIONERS ARE RE-ELECTED; JIMMIE ROBERTS IS NAMED MANAGER LOCAL AIRPORT

The City of Corsicana launched a new year Wednesday, two commissioners reelected and its books for 1945 closed in a Tuesday afternoon session.

W. E. McKinney and Fred D. Prince went back into office without opposition. Voting in the election was light, with only a total of 113 votes cast in the four wards.

McKinney received all of the possible 113 votes, while Prince received only 111.

Returns Canvassed

The election returns were canvassed at a recessed session of the commission Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. W. F. Morris, J. S. Murchison, J. M. Tullos and C. S. Wood, judges, presented returns to City Secretary Welch who read the following returns:

Ward 1, McKinney, 8, Prince 8; Ward 2, McKinney, 21, Prince, 19; Ward 3, McKinney, 31, Prince 31; Ward 4, McKinney 53, Prince 53.

A resolution declaring the two commissioners reelected for a two year term was read and adopted.

During the evening session, the commission voted to employ Jimmie Roberts as manager of the municipal airport to be established at Air Activities Field as soon as a permit is issued by the government. His salary will be $200 monthly.

During the afternoon session, Mayor Calhoun reported on his recent trip to Washington, D. C., relative to securing facilities and equipment at Air Activities Field for a muncipal airport and a housing project for veterans.

"Both the Washington agencies and Texas branches are working in harmony toward our securing these properties," he said. "The airport deal is gradually crystallizing into reality."

A permit for use of the landing field and hangar number 3 is expected by the city at an moment. It will be issued by the War Assets Corporation in Dallas. Officials of that office have indicated that the city may expect to have the project successfully consummated in May, the mayor said.

Several men appeared before the commission in regards to operation of the airport. These included Glenn Cumbie, James Rense and Jimmie Roberts. Lloyd Carraway also visited the meeting and said that he was interested in the insurance phase of the latest city undertaking.

O. Douglass, who surveyed a subdivision for R. G. Harris and L. A. Vaughn, Jr., in the colored section of the city and including parts of blocks 153 and 197 and all of block 160, asked the commission to dedicate 27 1-2 feet on Park Avenue and extend First Street between East First Avenue and Park Avenue.

A resolution on this matter will be drawn up by City Attorney Doyle Pevehouse and will be presented at the next regular meeting of th commission.

A resolution was passed selling lot 3, block 128, to Releigh Brooks for $250. The commissioners also discussed selling another piece of city property, the lot back of the High School on which is located the old fire station number 3. They reached no agreement on this matter.

Street Light

A petition asking for a street light at Third Street and Thirteenth Avenue was referred to Commissioner N. F. Garrett. He was also authorized to ascertain if it is possible at this time to secure material for additional street lighting.

The commission executed a quit claim deed conveying 13.6 feet of land adjoining block 249 to Max Brustein and R. J. Goldman.

Appointments

Appointments of employees were made at the afternoon session. Salaries had been set the same as last year at a previous session. These appointments were as follows:

France Might Have Given Nazis Much Trouble—Keitel

By DANIEL DE LUCE

NUERNBERG, April 4.—(AP)—Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel testified before the international military tribunal today that only 20 divisions, including reserves, guarded Western Germany during the Polish blitzkreig and "a French attack would have met with no German defense."

"We, as soldiers, were very much surprised that nothing took place except skirmishes between the Maginot Line and the West Wall," he said.

Keitel, on the witness stand in his own defense, said both allied and axis secrets leaked out "through the close connections of the Belgian and Italian Roya' houses." This he said was a factor in Hitler's war planning.

Belgium Thought Ready.

"We received, for instance, a number of reports that Belgium was being subjected to strong pressure by France and Britain to relinquish neutrality x x x," Keitel said. "Hitler told us only a short time in advance of his final decision in the spring of 1940 to violate the low countries' neutrality because he feared the allies would learn of it through the same royal relations."

Still brusque in his second day on the stand, the gray-uniformed wehrmacht lender said the Munich pact in 1938 was an unexpected political development that "made us generals extraordinarily happy because we did not believe we were strong enough to pierce Czechoslovakia's frontier fortifications."

Their opinion of Hitler's shrewdness enhanced, the generals had no misgivings when Germany moved to swallow up the Czechs regardless of Germany's pledged word, Keitel said.

When Hitler began threatening Poland, he continued, high army officers clung to the belief that the "Czech problem had been solved without firing a shot and perhaps other problems in the East could be solved that way."

Keitel declared he personally was misled into thinking the Soviet-German pact of August, 1939, made certain "Poland would not be recalcitrant in negotiations." He said, however, that he knew Heinrich Himmler had requested Polish uniforms to costume persons participating in faked border incidents.

After a whirlwind conquest in the east, Keitel went on, Hitler's first objective was to protect the Ruhr from French motorized forces reported massing on the Belgian frontier but later this aim was enlarged to include a knock-out blow against France with a single thrust through the low countries.

UNCLE SAM GETTING OUT OF DEBT; NEXT BUDGET MAY BALANCE

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—The federal deficit may be cut to around $22,000,000,000 for this fiscal year and wiped out in 1946-47, government economists estimated today.

Treasury technicians now believe tax receipts for the year ending June 30 will run 2 to 3 billion dollars higher than was foreseen in January, when President Truman's budget message went to congress.

Cuts in general spending, made more rapidly than anticipated because of speedier demobilization and reduction in military expenditures, will save the government a sum about as large, according to these officials who may not be quoted by name.

May Be Less.

"This is a conservative estimate, but it appears that the total deficit will be at least 5 or 6 billion dollars less than the $28,000,000,000 deficit originally estimated," said one White House adviser.

'If business activity holds up and if congress does not dip too deeply into the treasury in new appropriation bills, the present tax rates should easily balance the budget in the fiscal year starting July 1."

The President's budget message of Jan. 21 estimated a deficit of $4,300,000,000 for the coming fiscal year, but Mr. Truman said this would be met by tapping "the very substantial balance" that will exist in the treasury.

Tax Collections Good.

The quarterly report of Reconversion Director John W. Snyder, issued yesterday at the White House, stated that this year's federal deficit would be "several billion dollars less than was anticipated," because the high level of national income and production were maintaining federal tax collections at a good rate while war outlays were being reduced rapidly.

"During February and March, when heavy tax payments are made, revenues exceeded total expenditures," the Snyder report said.

"They will again fall below expenditures in later months; but as expenditures continue to decline, the amount of the current deficit will steadily shrink."

This will reduce inflationary pressures, Snyder said, because any excess of federal spending over receipts builds up private incomes and thus stimulates the public demand for scarce suplies.

The LeLivre Club will meet in regular session at Kinsloe House tonight at 8 o'clock with Mesdames Fred M. Allison Jr., and Claiborn Simpson as hostesses.

APPLICATIONS MUST BE RECEIVED TO GET NEW HOUSING UNITS

Applications by veterans for housing facilities at the proposed Air Activities Field housing project are being received in increasing numbers at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

Mayor John C. Calhoun has asked that veterans of World War II who are interested in living at the Field file their applications with that office.

"We must show a definite housing shortage here to secure the buildings for this purpose," he said.

Many veterans call back every day to determine the status of the project, Chamber of Commerce officials revealed.

Students From Roane Visit In Corsicana, Daily Sun Office

Accompanying the 21 boys and girls were two teachers, Miss Betty Bradford and Mrs. Ray Duke, and three mothers, Mrs. Dave Wiley, Mrs. Harry Fluker and Mrs Vernon Frazier.

Plans Complete For IOOF Homecoming Events April 27-28

Plans have been completed for a home-coming celebration here April 27-28, for the ex-students of the IOOF Home here when several hundred visitors will be present. Due to hotel reservation shortages, Corsicanans are requested to provide rooms where possible for the visiting exes. Meals are not expected. Those with a spare bedroom are requested to list them at the Chamber of Commerce office. A regular price is expected to be charged.

Banquet Memorial Planned

A banquet-memorial service for the ex-students who paid the supreme price during World War II will be held at the Navarro Hotel Saturday night, April 27.

STATE HOME LADS DEFEATED TIGERS DUAL TRACK MEET

State Home Lads won their dual track meet with Corsicana Tigers Tuesday afternoon on State Home field, amassing 84 1-2 points to the Tigers 45 1-2. Corsicana failed to enter in the pole vault and two hurdle events, thereby not competing for 24 possible points.

Casualty for the day was Baker, Lad's versatile track and field man, who wrenched his knee badly in the century run to put him out of all events except the shotput. This loss will hurt the Lad's chances at the coming regional meet in Fort Worth Saturday at Farrington Field. Ten district champions will meet for the regional title. Friday State Home will send Edna Mae Lamb to enter the senior girls singles in tennis. Matches will be played at the TCU courts.

First meet of the year for the Tigers, who have been in session only a week, will go to polishing them for the coming district meet. This was their first encounter with a regulation track and a try against competition.
